Stephen Lawrence Day April
22

- This is Stephen Lawrence he was murdered on April 22 1993.

- The 18-year-old was stabbed to death in an unprovoked racist attack by a gang of white youths as he waited at a bus stop in Eltham, south-east London, with his friend Duwayne Brooks

- This is Stephen's mum who has worked tirelessly for justice. She is working with schools and communities to challenge prejudice, discrimination and hatred in all its forms
- 'Stephen's story is both challenging and inspirational. I wish for Stephen's name not to be identified just by his murder but by the mark he has left on this country and the wider world and for the role model he was and continues to be'.

- She says;
- ‘The lessons of fairness and respect must start early if we are to have a truly fair and civilised society, free from discrimination where we all play our part as active citizens. It is my belief that these values are strongest when anchored and embedded into a school’s culture and explicitly taught through the curriculum’.

- ‘My vision is that Stephen’s Annual National Day will serve as a focus for schools and communities to engage in activities that empower young people to live their best life. Through these activities, my hope is that all pupils will value cultural diversity and develop the skills and confidence to challenge racism and discrimination and to embrace inclusion’.

- What is racism?
- What is discrimination?
- What is inclusion?

- Stephen's mum shares the same ambition as we do at St Joseph's that all who work, live and play at our school understand the part they have as individuals in creating a society in which everyone can flourish.
- We ALL have a responsibility and it is EVERYONE'S business.

- There are three particular words that are important to Stephen's legacy; Truthfulness, Fairness and Respect.
- Take a few moments of reflection with the person nearest to you. Talk about these words, what do they mean and can you give examples?

RESPECT

IT'S MORE THAN JUST A WORD

- Stephen Lawrence Day is an opportunity for us to use Stephen's life and legacy, to help everyone within St Joseph's community to live our best lives.
- We are encouraged and reminded by valuing and respecting our own lives and the lives of others.
- Think about our gospel values that are at the heart of our school.

Stephen Lawrence Day April 22

- Stephen's mum encourages us to; Live our Best life by
 - Having high aspirations for what we can do and achieve in our lives
 - Seizing opportunities both in and out of school to make us good people
 - Achieving success, being the best we can be
 - Showing Determination and Resilience in everything we do, especially when things get tough and difficult, never giving up.
 - Being Courageous in our words and actions, being strong and understanding right from wrong.

Stephen Lawrence Day April 22

- Let's start by thinking about our own community and celebrating our uniqueness as a Catholic school, proud of being part of St Joseph's family.
- All of us have the strength to challenge;

Bullying, discrimination, racism, disrespectfulness and injustice.

- Use the power of your voices so that they become 'Voices of Transformation' and they positively effect social change and how people treat one another.

A composite image on the left side of the slide. The top part shows a clear, close-up portrait of a young Black man, Stephen Lawrence, smiling and looking slightly to the right. Below this, the image fades into a collage of several other young Black men's faces, also smiling, creating a sense of community and shared identity.
